M. Poluzhyn, N. Venzhynovych, A. Galaidin. Lecture Notes on Historiography of Linguistics: a monograph for students of philology at higher educational institutions. Czestochowa, 2019, 242 p.

Reviewers:

A. D. Belova – Doctor of Philology, Professor of Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv;

V.I. Karaban – Doctor of Philology, Professor of Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv;

M.I. Syusko – Doctor of Philology, Professor of National University of Uzhhorod.

The monograph familiarizes students, post-graduates, university lecturers and scholarly public at large with the most significant linguistic schools, basic mainstreams, up-to-date theories as well as methods of research work applied in modern language studies all over the world. A broad range of issues concerning linguistic thought development and its influence on forming current paradigms of language investigation have also been taken into account. An attempt is made to expound systematically the most essential linguo-didactic views underlying fundamental philological training of specialists in the field of learning the English language and literature.

Assigned to all those, who are interested in general and special linguistic doctrines.

Design, technical editing
